

Fairview Farms

Krystine was born with a natural love and compassion for horses. She can render obedience from the most obstinate and transition negative behaviors into positive healthy behaviors. Her unique ability to relate with horses is an innate quality forged in her genes.

Beginning with her first riding lesson at the age of six, her involvement with horses now spans three decades and brings her to Fairview Farms JJC Ltd, her own 21.9-acre horse farm where she offers academic, management and therapeutic instruction as well as full boarding and facility rentals. Her capacity to perceive and interact positively with horses and people, enable her to focus on their needs and provide them with goods and services best suited toward building healthy relationships in a conducive environment.

Krystine is a graduate of Middlesex Community College where she completed business management, business accounting, marketing strategies, and business courses in Business Administration for which she made the Dean's List numerous times. She is also a graduate of the Revere Saugus Riding Academy where her training included dressage, vaulting, cross-country, eventing, and sidesaddle. While attending the academy she held a job as a barn hand where she acquired first hand knowledge and experience in instruction, horse management, barn management, horse driving, training, and foaling. Currently, she is Joint District Commissioner of the Worcestershire Pony Club where she along with board members, coordinate lessons, the annual horse show, rallies and benefit events. She performs to the pony club's "Standards of Proficiency", provides member training and handles the board meeting agendas. She also maintains the organization's website www.worcestershireponyclub.org.

Fairview Farms JJC Ltd is a facility that strives to offer more to their patrons and residents as well as the community that surrounds it. Programs are continually being added to accommodate all disciplines. We have qualified licensed instructors with a wide range of disciplines such as Western and English riding and eventing as well as Therapeutic.
